Negative. I've been in touch with the PM KTR that is clearing out the snow Ice and salting.

That said the unit is not coming in because of the ice. The contractor is also not working today due to the ice issue.

I'll come over to discuss

The Col just came over and told me the FST informed her that the snow removal companies were not able to plow or salt at Red Bank and Brooklyn because the units had already secured when they showed up. Just an FYI in case the unit starts complaining they need to coordinate the service better.
